EDNA A. HALL
Clerk of the School District

Report of Superintendent of Schools

To the School Board of Brookline:

I herewith submit my fourteenth annual report, which is also the fourteenth in the series of such reports.

SUPERVISORY UNION No. 40

This Union comprises the school districts of Amherst, Brookline, Milford, and Mont Vernon, and is the same as arranged in 1919 by the State Board of Education acting under the school law of 1919 by which the entire state, exclusive of cities, was divided into unions for supervisory purposes. By this law the School Board of the districts comprising a union form a joint board which meets annually and nominates a Superintendent of Schools who is elected by the state board. The joint board also determines the amount of the superintendent's salary above the $2,000 minimum which is paid by the state from income received from the $2 per pupil tax. Of the excess voted for 1932-1933 and 1933-1934 ($1,900) Amherst pays 25%, Brookline 10%, Milford 60%, and Mont Vernon 5%. The Superintendent pays all traveling expenses in the Union.

TEACHERS

Two changes have occurred since the last report. Mrs. Bennett, after four years of successful work at the Grammar School, resigned to accept a position as principal of the elementary schools in Greenville. Her place has been taken by Miss Florence M. Tarr of Bedford, a teacher with a three-year normal diploma and five years of experience in elementary school work. Miss Waegeneere who taught the intermediate room is studying in Belgium. Her place has been taken by Miss Edith Woolson of Woodsville, a graduate of Plymouth Normal School and with two years' experience in Stewartstown, New Hampshire. Miss Olive Baker continues in the primary room.

The prospective enrollment for next year indicates that there may be a few more children registered than this year although in general the numbers seem to be gradually decreasing over a ten year period. Considering the totals by grades the best grouping will probably be—primary I-II-III, intermediate IV-V-VI, grammar VII-VIII. This will allow time and space to offer advanced work at the grammar school beyond Grade VIII if such a demand arises.

TRANSPORTATION

This item in the budget amounts to considerable as there are quite a few children living more than two miles from school and transportation must be furnished in such cases. Next year the situation may be complicated by the fact that there are some pupils now in grade VIII who will not be fourteen years of age by next September. Under the law they must attend school until fourteen years of age and if Brookline does not offer instruction beyond grade VIII they are entitled to transportation to high school outside—under certain limitations. This is further discussed under the subject of high school later in this report.

Nearby towns have made it a practice to issue bids for transportation and in many cases have made considerable saving this last year. It would be well for Brookline to put all school transportation on this basis.

The expenditures for transportation for several years past is shown in the table below:

School Year	No. required to be transp.	Cost of transp.
1919-1920	13	$474 00
1920-1921	20	1,331 00

HIGH SCHOOL

In these days a diploma from high school is the common hope and ambition of nearly all grammar school graduates. The securing of such a diploma depends on the natural ability and industry of the pupil himself more than anything else. Not every girl or boy who completes grade VIII is able to do work on the high school level any more than every high school graduate can succeed in college. However, in this particular year when children can find little employment, it is most desirable that they continue in school as long as possible.

For small towns like Brookline the usual procedure is to attend some nearby high school with tuition paid by the school district and transportation furnished by the parents themselves. In districts bordering other states—as Brookline borders Massachusetts—it is legal for school boards to contract with out-of-state high schools for high school tuition provided such authority is voted at a regular district meeting. Furthermore, the rate of tuition for which a district is liable may not exceed the average cost of instruction per pupil in the school concerned for the previous school year nor in any case may it exceed such average cost for the whole state. This holds unless the district votes specifically to pay a definitely higher rate at a definitely named high school. For example, Brookline voted last year (1932) to pay Nashua's rate of $125 per pupil during 1932-1933 even though the maximum Nashua could collect from Brookline School District was $86.95, the actual cost of instruction per pupil at Nashua for 1931-1932. The average cost of instruction for 1931-1932 at nearby high schools was as follows: Amherst $69.27, Hollis $99.73, Manchester $96.50, Milford $67.93, and Wilton $81.96. (Similar figures are not available for Massachusetts schools.)

Another possibility is for further instruction to be provided in Brookline. This may be in the form of one year of approved high school work such as was maintained a few years ago or may be in accordance with the Public Laws, Chapter 119:28, which states: "It shall be the duty of school boards, in districts in which there is no high school, to provide for further instruction for a period not exceeding two school years of pupils who have completed the course of study prescribed for the elementary schools whenever such pupils or their parents or guardians desire such instruction; provided, that nothing herein shall be so construed as to prevent children whose parents or guardians reside in such district from enjoying all the privileges of attendance at high school or academies in other districts as provided herein."

For next school year, 1933-1934, there will be several pupils ready for high school, and in June 1934 a large class will be due to complete grade VIII. Of those eligible for high school this next September, three will not then be fourteen years of age. Under the law they must attend school until fourteen even if they have completed the grammar school. If Brookline provides a year of approved high school beyond grade eight it will not be liable for tuition or transportation for pupils in grade IX (except pupils under fourteen who live over two miles from the Brookline school). Incidentally an approved high school for grade IX might save the district several hundred dollars. If "further instruction" not on the approved high school basis is provided, as indicated in the law extract above, pupils may choose that or go outside to high school in which latter case Brookline would have to pay tuition but no transportation. In case no further instruction at all beyond grade VIII is offered, Brookline is liable for tuition as usual in outside high school and, in addition, must provide transportation to high school for those pupils not fourteen years of age.

The prospects for the next two years are such that the whole question should be considered thoroughly, both from the point of view of the best thing for the children and the financial cost to the district.

BUILDINGS AND GROUNDS

Since last year the following things have been done:

1. Interior painting at Primary Building.
2. Refinishing desks at Primary Building.

Needs for the future are as follows:

1. Ventilation of the Grammar room.
2. Rechecking and perhaps overhauling of heating and ventilating equipment at Primary Building by an expert in this line of work.
3. Permanent repairs to side porch at Grammar room. This need is not pressing.

FINANCES

The budget, for 1933-1934, prepared by the School Board and printed as a part of their annual report, asks for a less amount of money than a year ago, which in turn was less than the year before that. This net decrease has been possible on account of savings made in many items of the budget, and is also due to some increases in income, especially state aid. However, the cost of transportation will probably be more another year due to a new route. Also high school tuition will be much more unless Brookline maintains a high school, a matter discussed elsewhere in this report.

State aid is based on equalized valuation as determined by the Tax Commission. For 1933 and 1934 this has been fixed at $700,687. The two years past it was $838,313. This means a decided increase in state aid as will be noticed in the budget, namely, $1,348.21 to be received in December 1933 against $138.20 received in December 1932.

Certain figures for the school year 1931-1932 may be of interest as follows: (a.) The average cost per pupil in Brookline elementary schools was $92.28 against a state median of $82.11. Our average membership could have been considerably higher with the same number of teachers.

(b.) Cost of textbooks per pupil: Brookline $2.00. State average $1.56.

(c.) Cost of scholars' supplies per pupil: Brookline $1.58, State average $1.84.

(d.) Current cost of public education per $1000 of equalized valuation (1930-1931) in Brookline was $8.40. There were 79 districts in the state in which the cost was lower and 163 districts in which it was even higher, the same being from $3.04 for the lowest (Monroe) to $23.48 for the highest (Mason).

(e.) Out of a total appropriation of $21,314 in Brookline for 1931 (see 1932 report—page 11), schools had $5,492, or 25.8%. The Tax Commission's recent report shows that the average for schools throughout the state was 27.8%.

On the whole, then, the cost of schools in Brookline has been well within reasonable limits as measured by costs by and large over the state. For the future, careful economies should be practised—economies of service, of materials, and even of time.

CONCLUSION

At the Citizens Conference on the Crisis in Education, called by the President last month in Washington, Mr. Hoover said in his opening address:

"Our nation faces the acute responsibility of providing a right-of-way for the American child. In spite of our economic, social and governmental difficulties, our future citizens must be built up now. We may delay other problems, but we cannot delay the day-to-day care and instruction of our children.

"Our governmental forces have grown unevenly along with our astounding national development. We are now forced to make decisions on the merits of the various expenditures. But in the rigid governmental economies that are requisite everywhere we must not encroach upon the schools or reduce the opportunity of the child through the school to develop adequate citizenship. There is no safety for our republic without the education of our youth. That is the first charge upon all citizens and local governments.

"I have confidence that with adequate reduction of expenditures there can be ample amounts obtained from reasonable taxation to keep our school system intact and functioning satisfactorily. . . . The proper care and training of our children is more important than any other process that is carried on by our Government. If we are to continue to educate our children, we must keep and sustain our teachers and our schools."

Report of School Nurse

To Mr. Harold C. Bales, Superintendent of Schools, Brookline, N. H.:

The following is my first report of the health work in the Brookline schools, it being the thirteenth year of this work.

The annual medical inspection was made in September by Dr. Dearborn, the nurse assisting. This included an examination of the throat, teeth, heart, lungs, posture and general observations. The children were weighed and measured without shoes. A tabulated account of the defects is given on another page.

Fifty-one pupils were given toxoid at a clinic put on by the State Department of Health during April and May, 1932. Forty-three children had the Schick test in October of whom seven showed positive reactions and these were given again toxoid in November.

A dental clinic was held in April, 1932, at which fifteen children received necessary dental corrections. This was made possible and financed by the Brookline Red Cross and interested citizens.

Twenty-eight visits were made to the schools during the year which consisted of class room inspections, short talks on personal health and special attention to individual children. Several cases of pediculosis and skin diseases were found. Instructions as to care and home visits were made until a correction was obtained.

The eye examinations have been completed. Four pupils were found to have defective vision. It may be possible to have these corrections made through a clinic in the near future.

The ear examinations will be made in April when we may have the audiometer from the State Department of Health.

This year we have been very fortunate in having only a few cases of contagious diseases in the schools.

The list of unvaccinated pupils is slightly larger than last year. There are still several pupils who have not been vaccinated and have not obtained sufficient excuses. We often read about cases of small pox in other communities. Such an event here in Brookline might have serious consequences.
